

As a SMALL internet service provider I find this to be yet another way for Corporate america to shut down the American dream of running a small business. The Cable company wont let me re-sell their broadband and I doubt the power companies will allow me to sell their product., any more of this and small businesses will dissapear across this nation.